

Current situation

NT Airports is continuing to monitor the COVID-19 situation. Our priority remains the wellbeing and safety of our staff, contractors, visitors and travellers, and we are taking all the necessary precautions to ensure our people are protected.

Latest advice

There have been 30 confirmed cases of COVID-19 in the Northern Territory and 28 people have recovered. It has been more than two weeks since the last confirmed case.

From Friday 15 May, social distancing restriction will begin to ease in the Territory as outlined in the Northern Territory Government's Roadmap to the New Normal. Under the new measures, food, beverage and retail outlets within Alice Springs Airport are able to reopen as long as they fulfil appropriate requirements. Businesses seeking to reopen are required to submit a checklist ahead of opening. We are working through this process with each of our tenants.

While the situation is currently stable and some restrictions in the Territory are easing, it is important that we continue to follow the recommended advice and avoid becoming complacent.

Airport operations

Alice Springs Airport has reduced operating hours and there is restricted access to the terminal. Operating hours will be reviewed each week in line with flight schedules.

Support for tenants

NT Airports has been working through the details of the various relief packages and we will continue to discuss available relief packages with each of our tenants.
