

Current situation

NT Airports is continuing to monitor the COVID-19 situation. Our priority remains the wellbeing and safety of our staff, contractors, visitors and travellers.

We are actively improving our airport facilities to ensure our people are protected and to enable appropriate social distancing and hygiene.

Latest advice

There have been 30 confirmed cases of COVID-19 in the Northern Territory and all cases have recovered. It has been more than three weeks since the last confirmed case.

While the situation is currently stable and some restrictions in the Territory are easing, it is important that we continue to follow the recommended health and travel advice and avoid becoming complacent.

Airport operations

Alice Springs Airport has reduced operating hours and there is restricted access to the terminal. There is a maximum of two people allowed at reception at any time. Operating hours will be reviewed each week in line with flight schedules.

Travel restrictions

From Friday 5 June, travel to remote communities within the Northern Territory will be permitted. Under the new measures, there will no longer be a requirement to self-isolate for 14 days when travelling to communities for non-essential purposes.

From Monday 15 June, the Northern Territory will transition from mandatory, monitored quarantine to mandatory, self-quarantine. People arriving into the Territory will be able to undertake the 14 day quarantine period in their own home as long as they meet the appropriate guidelines.
